A Passion For Helping People

Lauren P. Raysor has a passion for helping people. Ms. Raysor, a 1988 graduate of Fordham School of Law, has worked on behalf of the people, both in her own practice and as an attorney for the City of New York and the State Attorney General's Office.

In 1993, Ms. Raysor joined the New York City Law Department as Deputy Chief and Senior Trial Counsel handling negligence cases filed against the city.

From 1999 to 2001, she served as Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Bronx and Upper Manhattan, investigating and litigating consumer fraud cases. A notable case involved an auto auction with dubious business practices that affected over 70 consumers. As lead counsel, Ms. Raysor was able to close the auto auction and protect consumers.

In 2002, Raysor served as President of the Metropolitan Black Bar

Association, establishing a permanent office, increasing corporate sponsorship and testifying before the City Council on Civil Rights issues.

Now, in private practice, Lauren Raysor is using her legal experience to help clients achieve the results they deserve. She has handled several high profile cases, including being the plaintiff's civil attorney in the case against rapper Remy Ma.

CIVIL RIGHTS

In the United States, everyone is supposed to have the same rights under the law. Sometimes that does not happen. Civil rights violations can occur when:

- You are arrested for no reason during a routine stop
- You are arrested as a result of racial or minority group profiling
- There is negligence in jail or prison
- Law enforcement uses excessive force

Civil rights violations can also occur when you are discriminated against based on:

- Age ■ Disability ■ Race
- Nationality ■ Gender ■ Religion

PERSONAL INJURY

Lauren Raysor can help you if you have been injured as the result of:

- Slip and fall
- Construction site accident
- School accident
- Car accident
- Bus or Subway accident
- Pedestrian accident

MATRIMONIAL & FAMILY COURT

When couples decide to end their marriage, it starts a complicated journey. In New York, a divorce decree is issued on the basis of grounds, including:

- Cruel and inhuman treatment ■ Adultery
- Imprisonment ■ Abandonment
- Constructive abandonment

As of August, 15, 2010, no-fault divorce can be granted if there is mutual consent between the parties.

Other important family court issues may include:

- Child custody & visitation
- Equitable distribution of assets
- Maintenance (formerly known as alimony)
- Child care & education

BANKRUPTCY & FORECLOSURE

If you are overwhelmed with debt, bankruptcy might be a solution. Bankruptcy can stop garnished wages, bill collection, liquidation, and provide a defense against foreclosure.

Lauren Raysor can handle either a Chapter 7 (complete liquidation) or Chapter 13 (reconstruction) bankruptcy filing on your behalf. Her office can also assist with loan modifications.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU ARE IN AN ACCIDENT

If you have been in an accident, be sure to:

- Call 911 to contact the police and an ambulance, if one is needed.
- Exchange insurance, registration and driver's license information.
- Do not claim responsibility.
- If there are witnesses, get their names, addresses and phone numbers.
- If you are injured, seek medical care at a hospital or your physician's office.
- If you are in an accident involving injury or property damage, contact your insurance company. If you fail to do so, your claim may be refused.

If you've been injured in an accident, contact Lauren Raysor. She will work to protect your family and get the settlement you deserve. There is no legal fee unless she recovers money for you.
